

TRAFFIC TOLL—Drivers dead, five persons injured and two cars fit only for scrap heap. The two vehicles met on U. S. 45 at 151st st., Orland Park Sunday night. The one shown at the top was operated by Robert Baker, Melrose Park, while the bottom car was driven by

John H. Lucas, Orland Park. Authorities hope that the traffic toll will be lighter over the New Year holiday than it was over Christmas. Illinois was one of the worst spots in the nation for highway slaughter, at Christmas time. (Marvin Smith Photo)

New Lenox Assessments

County Publishes Corrected List

Acting on advice of State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, the new county treasurer, Roy C. Doerfler, has ordered publication of a corrected tax assessment list for New Lenox township.

The new list, published this week, is said to take care of the inequalities that appeared in the original list which was published Dec. 4. The new deadline for filing complaints with the board of review is Jan. 28.

There are some 500 corrections that appear in the new list. In all, the list has some 2,000 entries. There are a comparatively few instances in which the corrections show a lower valuation than did the original list but for the most part the valuations are substantially higher.

Even with these higher figures the total valuation for New Lenox real estate is said to be about 31 per cent of the fair market value instead of 55 per cent as was the goal. A 55 per cent valuation of property throughout the county would assure a multiplier of one in figuring equalized valuations.

According to Meade Baltz, chairman of the board of supervisors and as such the chairman of the board of review, all of the townships, except New Lenox, Frankfort and Crete, have valuations around the 55 per cent mark. The valuations in these three townships are said to range from 31 to 33 per cent of the actual market value.

A clerical error in making up the assessments that was published Dec. 4, produced scores of complaints. A group of New Lenox men formed the Equality Taxpayers Association and succeeded in getting the board of review to extend the time for hearing complaints beyond the original deadline of Dec. 18.

In the meantime Baltz, former treasurer, Floyd Knapf, the present treasurer, Doerfler and State's Attorney Frank H. Masters began an inquiry to determine how (1) gross inequalities appeared on the list and (2) to ascertain what legal steps could be taken to correct the error.

It was found that the errors stemmed from clerical work. In making up the books from which the assessment rolls are made up, figures were taken out of the previous books, by mistake, instead of from the cards that had been made out for each tract of land.

After discovering the source of the error officials consulted with attorneys and Mr. Masters, the legal advisor of county officials as well as state's attorney, and from him determined what to do. As ex-officio supervisor of assess-

Lions to Burn Old Christmas Trees at Mokena

How to dispose of their Christmas trees has been made easy for Mokena residents. All they have to do is put them out in the parkways next to the street before 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Mokena Lions club, with an assist by Cub scouts will pick the trees up, haul them to Community park and there burn them.

The Mokena volunteer fire department will have a crew on hand to supervise the burning and guard against it getting out of hand.

Discarded Christmas trees and the loose branches used in decorating mantles and tables are a serious hazard. They should never be burned in furnaces or fireplaces and when they are burned out of doors care should be taken, firemen warn. Children, and adults too, are frequently burned in disposing of Christmas trees. That is why the Lions club offer to pick up Christmas trees for disposal Sunday is a salute by firemen and village officials.

Revive Two Heart Victims at N. Lenox

Two persons stricken with heart attacks at New Lenox were taken to Silver Cross hospital in the Baskerville ambulance after being revived thru use of the police inhalator unit.

Robert Schuey, 38, of Terre Haute, Ind., who was visiting his mother, Mrs. Edward Ledebuhr, 1 S. Marley rd., was taken ill early Christmas morning. He had recovered sufficiently by the week-end, however, to return to his home.

The other victim, George A. McCormick, East Chicago, Ind., and his wife, were driving thru New Lenox Friday afternoon when he felt an attack coming on. He pulled into the Standard Oil station and asked for aid. A state trooper, James Brockman, summoned an ambulance. Joseph Walchert and Wade Krohn, of the New Lenox police force used an inhalator. Krohn administered oxygen to McCormick enroute the hospital. The victim remained at the hospital several days. Mr. McCormick is the former warden of the Indiana state prison at Michigan City.

3 Die at Orland Park Two Near New Lenox in Holiday Slaughter

Five persons were killed and seven injured in traffic accidents in the area over the Christmas holiday. The five deaths constituted a seventh of the Christmas holiday traffic toll in Illinois which had one of the worst records in the nation despite all the advance planning to curb speedsters and careless driving.

Three of the deaths and five of the injuries resulted from two accidents in the Orland Park area. The other deaths and injuries followed a two-car crash at the intersection of Cedar road and the Manhattan-Monee blacktop, south of New Lenox.

A broken stop sign that had not been replaced was blamed for the crash near New Lenox last Friday afternoon. In that accident Mrs. Velma C. Miller, 45, of Andros, was instantly killed and Arley Brown, 43, of 701 Seventh st., Lockport, suffered injuries that caused his death on Saturday at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet. Brown's wife, Leona, 35, is a patient in that hospital with serious injuries.

Roy C. Miller, 53, driver of the car that was traveling west on the Manhattan-Monee road, escaped with minor hurts. The Browns were going south on Cedar road, heading for Indiana to deliver a belated Christmas gift. Traffic on Cedar road is supposed to stop for the Manhattan-Monee road but the stop sign had been wrecked in an accident the previous week, it was said, and had not been replaced. Brown did not stop, it was said, and his car was hit by Miller's and knocked some 150 feet, according to the report. The Millers were taking eggs to market.

An accident that took two lives at Orland Park Sunday night occurred at the intersection of 151st street and U. S. 45. Killed were John H. Lucas, 24, Orland Park, and Robert Baker, 24, of 11015 Wellington ave., Melrose Park. Lucas was alone in his car and is said to have started to cross U. S. 45, traveling east.

The Bakers, who had spent Christmas in Tennessee, were returning home and so were heading north. Mrs. Baker (Carley Estelle) 25, is in Silver Cross hospital, with a serious spinal injury. Jerry Lemmons, 22, of the same address as the Bakers, was cut about the face and head. He and the three Baker children, Robert Jr., 2; Carol, 5 and Richard 6, who suffered minor injuries, were treated at St. Francis hospital, Blue Island.

Funeral services for John Lucas were scheduled for Wednesday morning from the Schmaedeke funeral home at 9:30 o'clock to St. Michael's church at 10 when a requiem mass was said by the Rev. Frank M. Coyle. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, Mokena.

Mr. Lucas was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lucas. He resided with a brother, Charles, at 150th and Hale. Also surviving are another brother, Louis and a sister, Mrs. Lucille Bican, of Berwyn, Ill.

The other death in the Orland Park area was that of Donald Bryan Harris, 20, of 170th and 104th ave. He died in the hospital at Oak Forest following injuries suffered Christmas eve. A companion, Donald O'Connor, 17, of 167th st. and 104th ave. is in Silver Cross hospital, with a skull fracture.

The two youths are said to have been chasing a rabbit and the car in which they were riding ran off the road.

A Joliet man, Steve Beke, 64 of 105 Page ave., suffered a broken leg when he was

Telephone Company Names Woman Manager For New Lenox-Mokena

L. L. Bodach, Joliet district commercial manager for Illinois Bell, announces the appointment of Miss Jane Voltz, presently assistant manager at Oak Park, as manager for the company's business operations in New Lenox and surrounding communities. She joins Wire Chief G. O. Niver and District Installation Superintendent H. R. Seybold as the management team which provides service to New Lenox and Mokena. With this appointment, Miss Voltz becomes the first woman manager for the company's Lockport area.

Howard Gramm, telephone manager here since 1956, will move to Illinois Bell's Springfield District as manager of the Petersburg area. He has been a member of the Des Plaines Valley Improvement Association.

As assistant manager at Oak Park, Miss Voltz assisted in the business management of the company's operations involving over 50,000 phones. She worked closely with the management team in administering the dial service there.

Among her duties in the near future will be helping to manage the changeover to dial service in Lemont and Lockport. Also, she'll be helping to manage the changeover to extended area service for telephone customers in Braidwood.

"With the appointment, Miss Voltz assumes a management post which is an important one to the company," said Bodach. "With her past record in the company we're sure she'll serve phone customers here well."

During her telephone career Miss Voltz has held many management posts. While in Chicago she was responsible for training telephone people who handle customer's accounts. As a business office supervisor in Milwaukee with the Wisconsin Telephone Co., she was in charge of an office force of 20. Then, returning to Illinois Bell, she worked in the company's division headquarters which handled the business operations of phones in the northern half of Illinois. She assisted in the analysis of results and in supervising training for the division.

In 1956 she became assistant manager in Oak Park with an office staff of 35 service representatives serving over 50,000 dial phones.

As service committee chairman of the Oak Park chapter of Zonta, Miss Voltz has been responsible for determining the distribution of funds raised by the organization for scholarships and civic activities in the community. Zonta is an international business women's organization.

During the Korean conflict Miss Voltz was a chief radio- man in Naval Intelligence stationed in Washington, D. C.

"I'm looking forward to joining the business community in Lockport and the surrounding communities," said Miss Voltz. "I'm particularly happy for the opportunity to help bring dial service to Lemont and Lockport in the near future."

St. Jude Begins Its 25th Year In New Lenox

The Very Rev. Pius Barth, O.F.M., will celebrate a solemn high mass in thanksgiving at 10:30 next Sunday, Jan. 4, to open the silver anniversary year of St. Jude's parish in New Lenox. Father Pius is superior of all the Franciscan Fathers and Brothers of the Providence of the Sacred Heart with headquarters at St. Louis. Mo. Other ministers of the mass will be the arch priest, Fr. Alphonse Coan, O.F.M., former chaplain of St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet and now chaplain at St. Francis Woods; deacon Fr. Mel Doyle, O.F.M. of St. Peter's church, Chicago; sub-deacon, Fr. Denis Hall, O.F.M., pastor at St. Jude's; and master of ceremonies, Fr. Faustin Klink, O.F.M., assistant pastor, Seminarians, Dennis Griffin, John Griffin and William Kramer will be acolytes.

Ted Bogdan will prepare which will be served in a dinner for the clergy the parish hall following the mass. Mrs. Martin Seeley will have charge of serving the dinner.

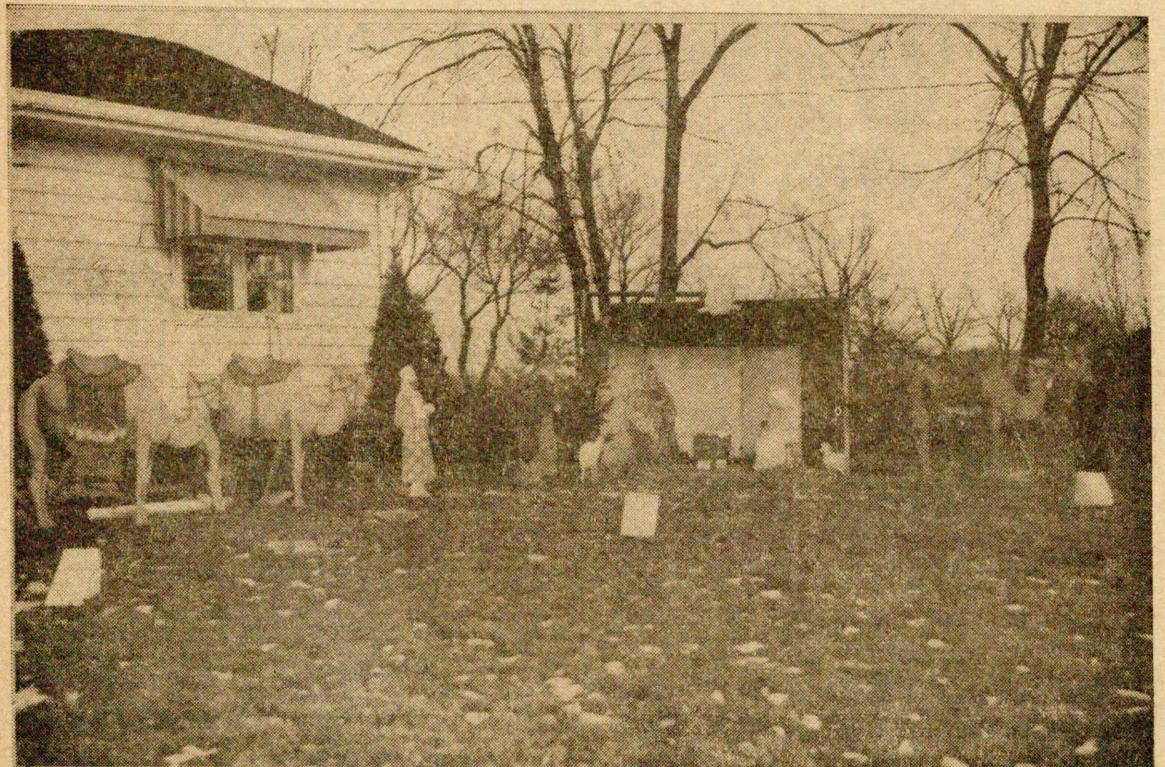

St. Jude's has been staffed by the Franciscan Fathers from the time of the first mass which was read in the first church on South Cedar Road on Christmas Eve in 1934. From small beginnings and only about 100 parishoners the parish has grown along with the township and now numbers over 1300 souls.

In 1950 a parochial school was built and now enrolls 225 students. A new church was completed to seat over 700 people and dedicated by Bishop McNamara on October 26 of this year. The rectory was purchased in 1956 and within the past month a house was purchased as a permanent residence for the sisters. With this latest addition St. Jude's now has a complete parochial plant and indeed has much to thank God for in this opening solemn year.

The parish plans a number of other events during 1959 to round out the anniversary year.

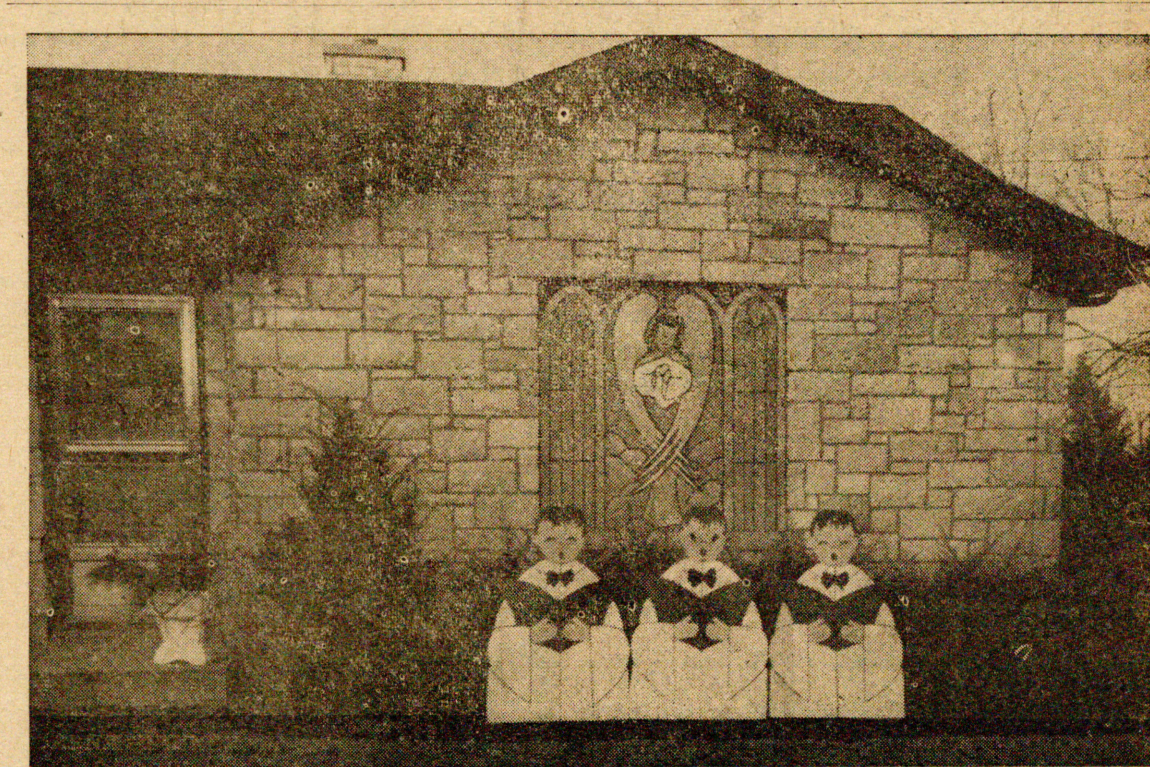

Student's Name Omitted From List Of Semi-Finalists

In the list of students at Carl Sandburg high school who are semi-finalists in state scholarship examinations published last week, the name of Daena R. Geissinger of 144th st., Orland Park, was inadvertently omitted from the school list.

FRANKFORT WINNER in the Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the Lions club of that community, was Frank Sinnott on White street. As shown in the picture the theme developed was the visit of the Three Wise Men to do homage to the Christ Child in the manger at Bethlehem. (M. Smith photo)

MOKENA WINNER in annual Yule Lighting contest was Walter Yunker. As can be seen from the picture his entry made use of three choir boys against a church window design.

When lighted at night the entire setting is very effective. The contest was sponsored by the Mokena Civic association.

Mrs. John Swisher Hostess to Garden Club at Christmas Party

For the 17th year, the Tinley Park Garden club held its Christmas party in the home of Mrs. John Swisher, 7015 W. 173rd place. This is always a gala affair, yet the meaning of the day is not overlooked by the hostess who plans the program.

The party began with a sumptuous turkey dinner served at noon in Jardine's restaurant. There the tables were gaily decorated in the Christmas colors. The hostess had made boutonnières in the form of a holly wreath for each guest as well as the waitresses.

After the dinner all adjourned to the Swisher home where the party continued.

With Mrs. Swisher in charge the program opened with the reading of the Christmas story from St. Luke, by Mrs. Robert Memhart.

Booklets were given to each, which consisted of original poems and articles written by Mrs. Swisher which included a special poem to the Garden club. The printed booklet which was entitled, "Home-spun Rhymes" was dedicated to the members of the Tinley Park Garden club as a memento of the many Christmas memories shared over the many years. The booklet was read in unison.

The decorations of the home included four imported figurines, dressed in holiday attire, which were aptly placed on the fireplace. Two Christmas trees, made of colored bulbs and resting on a blanket of green boughs decorated the top of the spinet piano.

The white flocked tree at the window was decorated only with red candy strawberries.

Following a word game and the singing of carols, the gift exchange was enjoyed. The club president, Mrs. Gervis Klepper presented all with a lovely foliage potted plant.

The afternoon closed after all adjourned to the dining room where a beautifully decorated table was viewed. On the table was a 28 angel miniature chorus, a nativity scene in a corner, 22 decorated miniature Christmas trees, reindeer with sprigs of holly on their backs, candy canes with bells rung around the table. It was a beautiful sight. These decorations were presented to the guests.

Thus closed another beautiful Christmas party which was recorded in memory's book.

Mrs. John Cutler Gives a Tea For Hospital Volunteers

Mrs. John S. Cutler, wife of the superintendent of Tinley Park State hospital, entertained the hospital volunteers at a tea in the superintendent's residence Monday.

The volunteers who attended from the area numbered about 40. They perform many services for the patients, assisting in therapy programs and providing recreation. This was the first such tea held for the volunteers.

Couple Mark Golden Wedding At Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dunston of Tinley Park celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon with an open house in the Methodist church social hall. Approximately 75 guests were present.

The buffet table was beautifully centered with golden mums and candles. Dainty refreshments were served.

As guests registered in the white leather guest book, they were presented with a gold-foil "50" token.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Dunston were their two daughters, Mrs. J. P. Astrom of Charles, South Carolina and Mrs. B. H. Astrom of Lockport.

Orland Junior Women Welcome New Members at Last Meeting

The Orland Park Junior Women met for their December meeting at McKenzie's Restaurant in Orland Park, Dec. 8, and the coldness of the outdoors was dispelled indoors by the warmth of the Christmas greetings exchanged, and the gaiety of Christmas decorations.

The president, Mrs. Oscar Enk, opened the meeting, and welcomed the following new members into the club. Mrs. Edgar Harbison, Mrs. William Nelson and Mrs. Donald Pedrick. She also announced that Mrs. Joseph Schutte and Mrs. Joseph Volger had become members, although they were not present at the meeting.

Guests for the evening included Mr. Robert Bibeau, Mrs. Clarence Schultz, Mrs. Terrence Burk, Miss Pat De Groate, Mrs. Thomas Wright, Mrs. Robert Smith, and Mrs. Orville Schmaedeke. It is hoped that some of these ladies will become members of the Junior's Club in the near future. Mrs. Franklin Loebe and Mrs. Foster Myrick, former members, were also welcome guests.

The American Home chairman, Mrs. George Johnson, reminded members to bring the articles they are making for the mid-winter bazaar to the January meeting. Items under $1 will be the best sellers, and doll clothes are especially desired.

Mrs. Knowles, the leader of Brownie Troop 236, which is sponsored by the Junior Women's Club, requested the donation of an American flag to the troop, and the donation was promptly approved.

Mrs. Robert Johnson of Orland Hills has accepted the area chairmanship for the March Of Dimes, which will be held Jan. 27th, from 7 to 8 p.m. Volunteers are needed, especially from Laguna Woods and Orland Park Hills. Please submit your name to Mrs. Oscar Enk, Fieldbrook 9-3287, if you can aid in this drive.

Donations of books for girls aged 9 through 18 will be appreciated, as they are to be sent to girls living at Nomequa Lodge. Books should be brought to the January meeting.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Victor Ebeling and Mrs. Ivo Mersmann presented Christmas games, followed by the gift exchange which was very cleverly arranged. Refreshments of hot beef sandwiches, beautiful jelly molds, relishes, coffee, tea, and a wonderful assortment of Christmas cookies were served by Mrs. Oscar Enk, Mrs. Merrill Cooper, Mrs. James Whiteford, and Mrs. Robert Miskee. The entire evening was most enjoyable, and showed thoughtful preparation by the entire committee.

Homemakers at Sandburg to Give Fashion Show

The annual fashion show of the Future Homemakers of America at Carl Sandburg high school will be held at the school the evening of Jan. 10 at 7:30 o'clock. All girls who have had a semester of sewing are eligible to model. The feature attraction of the evening will be a guest speaker from Patricia Stevens. The guest will give a 20 minute lecture, "Charm in a Capsule."

She will then answer questions from the audience about grooming, dress and modeling careers.

The general chairman of the show is Marilyn Neubauer; program chairman, Carol Scheld; stage chairman, Carol Coulter; ticket chairman, Betty Stellwagon; music chairman, Nancy Wiley; refreshment chairman, Mary Alfirivic; poster and stage decoration, Lois Juravic; Sylvia Sparks, Dave Moore; publicity chairman, Florence Tarske.

Mrs. Neuneker and Mrs. Caday are the style show sponsors.

There is an admission charge.

PTA News

The Maue School had the Christmas program Monday night in the school under the direction of teachers Mrs. Marilyn Sievert and Mrs. Winifred Minert. They opened with a Greeting by Gayle Bernard. A pageant by the entire school was "She Didn't Believe" by Catharine Christie. The cast was as follows:

Dorothy by Barbara Strassenburg; Elives were Douglas Edickson and James Walker; Dolls were Gayle Bernard, Susan Fandrey, Deborah Steeples and Mary Jane Stellwagon; Pointsettias by Linda Cole and Sue Strassenburg; Train by Mark Cope, Robert Nemoyer, John Nordsell, Edward Radzinski and Paul White; Wind-up toys were Larry Bernard, John Cope, Terry Donovan, David Klepper, Earl Klepper, Richard Klepper, Donald Kohl, Marvin Reeves, Larry Turay, Larry White; Gifts by Frances Klepper, Michael Nemoyer, Ruth Nordsell; Housewives by Melissa Cope, Janice Knielerm, Joan Stellwagon; Santa Claus by Allen Andersen, Rodney Knielerm, Tony Molitor; Merchants by Larry Reeves, John Stellwagon, Ronald Sons; Stagehands, Allen Andersen and James Semstis; Closing by Larry Turay.

Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

Arbor Park

The December meeting of the Arbor Park PTA was held Dec. 18 in the school auditorium. The regular business meeting was dispensed with to give adequate time for the special Christmas program given by children from Grades three thru eight.

The songs, recitals and pantomime were thoroughly enjoyed by all. Following the children's program the "Sweet Adelines" blended their voices in a variety of songs.

After the program, refreshments were served by the Sixth grade mothers.

The Bremen Beat

Six students at Bremen Community high school took preliminary examinations in connection with the eighteenth annual science talent search Friday, Dec. 19.

Students who took the test were Jack Heil, 17119 Longfellow Road, Hazel Crest; Walter Ketel 17115 Whitman, Hazel Crest; Craig Foster, 14408 Knox Avenue, Midlothian; Kent Tranter, 3000 Lexington Drive, Hazel Crest; Kenneth Tunstall, 16019 Trumbull, Markham; and Mike Field, 17404 Longfellow Drive, Hazel Crest.

James McCaslin, guidance director at Bremen, administered the test. The purpose of the search is to "discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent, and creative originality in science."

National prizes are scholarships.

More Mentally Handicapped in Public Schools

Speaking before 300 parents and teachers at a dinner held to honor teachers of the mentally handicapped during National Retarded Children's Week, Dr. Frances A. Mullen, assistant superintendent of schools, stated that more than 2000 mentally retarded children must stay at home because there is no room for them in Chicago public school classes.

Dr. Mullen, who is directing a study on education of mentally retarded children in Chicago, stated that the Chicago public schools now have an all time enrollment of 5,812 mentally handicapped pupils taught by 346 teachers.

"This is a 40 per cent increase in five years," she said "but the task is incomplete."

What Is The Largest "Woman's Club" In Illinois?
2,236,000 Women Who Save Trading Stamps Are The Largest "Woman's Club" In Illinois.

Every day over 2,236,000 Illinois women make it a point to shop where they get trading stamps. This large group of smart, thrifty Illinois shoppers, with their common interest in trading stamps, can be thought of as a huge "woman's club" with membership in the state.

Of course this "club woman" gets wonderful things for her home and family through such favorites as S&H Green Stamps. Through her thrift and diligence she provides "extras" for her family. And although she may seldom think about it, her active saving is enormously good for business in our state.

Last year, for example, trading stamp companies purchased $35,531,000 worth of products from Illinois manufacturers. Making these things provided jobs for 3,501 Illinois people. S&H Redemption Stores, paying local rent and taxes, employ many more.

In the light of these facts it would seem that not only Illinois women, but everybody in the state can be thankful that the trading stamp is a part of our way of life.

This message is published as public information by THE SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON COMPANY, originator 63 years ago of S&H Green Stamps.

HBAC Host to Builders at Convention

The Home Builders Association of Chicagoland is inviting building officials in the Chicagoland area to be guests at the Annual Convention of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago, on Jan. 18-22.

Martin H. Braun, HBAC president, stated:

"We are making arrangements with NAHB for a complimentary registration for a representative of each of the close to 150 municipalities that comprise our assigned greater Chicagoland area. Since registrations are $15 each, this amounts to a value of over $2,000 being devoted to the up to the minute education of officials who are charged with issuing permits for homes for Chicagoland residents. Having attended every convention in the past, I know that there is no other place or

Killers Prowl the Highways

The slaughter on American highways is as senseless as it is appalling.

If some citizen stepped out into a street or road and turned loose with a machine gun with resultant loss of life to the users of such trafficways the public would clamor for action against the offender. Those who didn't want him executed would have him locked up and the key thrown away.

Yet the speedster, the careless and the drunken drivers are on the kill everyday and we don't do very much about it.

Most authorities agree that strict enforcement of traffic laws will do much to reduce automobile accidents. Just to arrest violators is not enough, however. They must be punished. And for punishment to be effective it must be swift, certain and of a nature that will serve as a reminder that obedience to the law is the best course to follow.

If the minimum fine for failure to obey a stop sign, for example, were set at $100 and the smallest fine for speeding was $200, and in the event the offender didn't have the money he or she was required to serve out the fine in jail, it is quite likely that running stop signs and speeding, two major causes of accidents and fatalities, would be cut to a low figure.

A mandatory sentence of a year in jail for drunken drivers probably would keep most drinkers out of automobiles.

Too harsh, you say? Too much of a hardship on the offender's family? Well, think of the families of his victims. They aren't exactly dancing in the streets.

We are too soft in our treatment of traffic violators. Usually they are allowed to appear before a judge at their convenience.

"If he has to appear during a work day," one frequently hears a magistrate explain why a hearing has been delayed, "he will lose a day's pay."

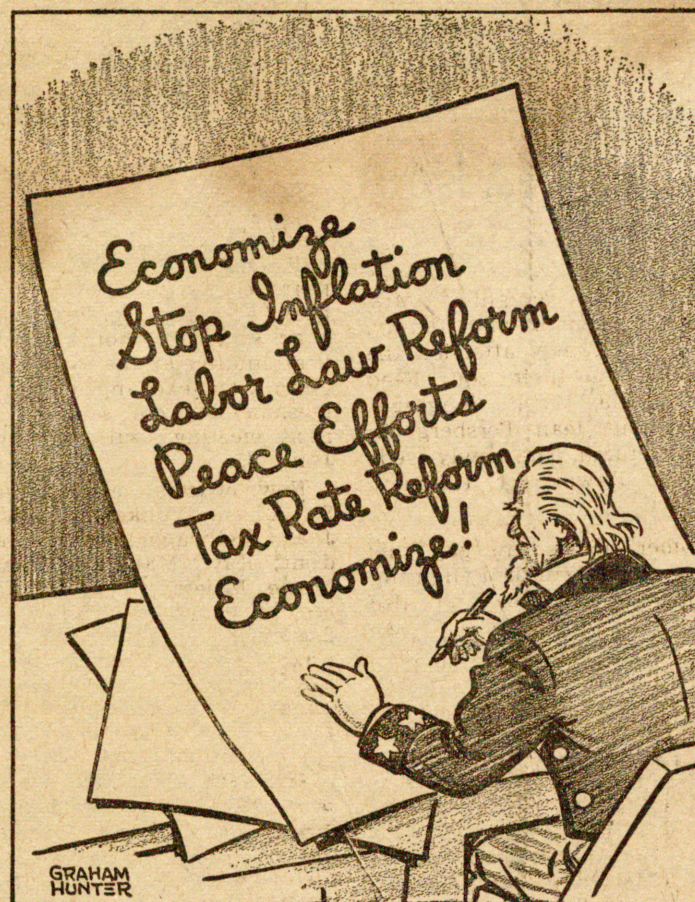

And that seems to be an adequate excuse. If the offender's action has put someone in the hospital no one seems to give a thought to the fact that the victim probably will miss quite a number of days of pay.

If something could be done to eliminate delay in the hearing of moving traffic violations and stiff penalties set up that would be mandatory upon the court to impose, those of us who drive cars would be more careful. And if drivers were more careful we wouldn't have all the deaths and injuries that we do.

Automobile manufacturers could be of considerable help too making highways safer. They could forget all this high horsepower stuff and the gear ratios that give greater speed. Persons who want to fly should use planes.

Try and remember a license to drive is not a license to kill.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

came available before the days of sulfa drugs and penicillin. Doctors were powerless to prevent the recurring tonsil and adenoid infections except by removing these tissues. Thus, in an effort to prevent rheumatic fever, Bright's disease, etc., removal of the tonsils and adenoids was practiced very widely. And it worked. The occurrence of these serious illnesses began to drop in frequency.

However this was not the ideal solution. With the development of the antibiotics, it was possible to establish a more conservative policy. The treatment of tonsillitis and ear infections with antibiotics cleared up the illnesses rapidly enough so that there was little fear of complications such as rheumatic fever.

Nevertheless two unsolved problems remain. In some children, the tonsils are practically destroyed by one or two attacks of tonsillitis. Then they no longer are able to fight throat infections. In fact they become a storehouse for germs which continually reinfect the throat. In such patients, even antibiotics cannot clear out the germs permanently. These are the individuals who still need to have their tonsils removed.

The other problem involves the adenoids. Sometimes, even when they are not infected, the adenoids are so large that they block the back of the nose. This causes the child to snore continually during the night and walk around slack-jawed during the day. Enlarged adenoids also interfere with eating. Did you ever try to swallow with your nose pinched closed? That is how a child with this condition feels whenever he eats. Here again the only solution is removal of the adenoids.

DON'T PROTESTANTS Believe In Confession?

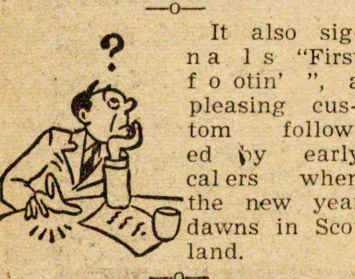

But Protestants don't believe in confession, do they? Bob asked a friend who was a leader in a nearby Protestant church.
"Why, of course, we do, Bob. What makes you ask that?"
"There's no confessional in the Protestant church, is there?"
"No, there isn't. But that doesn't mean that we don't believe in confession. We believe that every person must confess his sins. The Bible says, 'If we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, He (God) is faithful and just to forgive us our sins.' (1 John 1: 8, 9)
"But you don't have any priests. To whom do you confess?"
"No, we don't have priests in the sense you probably mean, Bob. The Bible says that every 'born again' Christian is a priest" (Revelation 1: 6)
"Then do you confess to one another?"
"We can. The Bible tells us that we should confess our sins one to another when we have wronged one another. But there is a big difference between confession and forgiveness. The only One who can forgive sin is the One against Whom we have sinned —that is God. God the Father saw the great guilt of sin which would be on every human soul. The Bible says that God showed His love toward us, 'in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.' (Romans 5: 8)
"I believe I understand that, but how do I confess my sins?"
"It is very simple, Bob. Jesus Christ, God's Son, died for you and me, and thus He paid in full the penalty for our sins so that God could forgive us. God is everywhere and knows everything. Anyone, anywhere, can turn to God in prayer and confess his sins. Jesus, when He was on earth, invited people to come directly to Him. He said, 'Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' (Matthew 11: 28)
Bible-believing Protestants go directly to God, confess their sins and receive forgiveness. They believe and do what God commands in His Word, the Bible.

by GLENN F. LOGAN
Hogmanay!

That's a Scotch code word for Happy New Year.

Hogmanay — pronounced hog-ma-nay, with the accent on the last syllable—means the last day of the year. The books this writer has seen confess that the derivation of the word is a mystery. Since hogmanay falls on the last day of the year it can be taken as a synonym for New Year's Eve and on New Year's Eve everyone says Happy New Year.

Therefore, in sending Happy New Year greetings by telegraph or cable it would seem that hogmanay should suffice. And stemming, as it does from Scotland, what is more natural than for it to bring "Auld Lang Syne" to mind so that by simply using one word one has sent a singing telegram with all the verses and three choruses.

Dealing with the word "hogmanay," as a word, one source says it is believed to have originated from the cry or greeting loosed by the Druids meaning ".....to the mistletoe the new year."

If that is a fact the Druids apparently used code too or perhaps hoisting a few horns of mead or whatever the tipple of the country was at the time, and so slurred and contracted the phrase that it came out something resembling hogmanay.

The encyclopedias, however, do not give many details and say the origin is doubtful. In two of them some anonymous lines are given: "The cottar weanies glad and gay, wi' pocks out owre their shoulder sing at the door for Hogmanay."

In the other lines the singers are demanding: "Hogmanay, t r o l l o l a y, gies o' your white bread and name o' your grey."

Apparently it was the custom to go from door to door the day before the new year and put the bite on householders. Later the modus operandi was refined to the practice known as "first footin'."

First footers, as the term implies, are the first folks to step over the threshold as the new year arrives. This means a lot of midnight traffic in Scotland.

According to the beliefs the householder keeps a wary eye at the front door, if it is one from which the person within can get a wee peak out, or from a window if it gives a view of the door.

If the first person at the door has black hair he is welcome, doubly so if he has a package in his hand. Black haired visitors are considered lucky and such a one first across the threshold means good fortune for the year. And if he also brings a gift, why then the recipient is assured of plenty for the next 365 days.

If he comes empty handed the odds are good that the householder has suddenly become stone deaf and the first visitor can beat on the door until it shakes without getting a response. You see if the first comer is empty handed the host figures on a year of want and that's not good.

The same thing is true concerning red heads. Red heads are plain bad luck, if first thru the door, and blondes are almost as bad.

Red heads and blondes go first footin' but they are careful to stay well back in the line. As long as they aren't first in no one cares but it is just as well if they bring something for the host. In fact it is much better if they do.

Some householders have the same first footer every year and you can be certain that he has black hair and is certain to bring something for the host.

Some folks like to have a child as the first to cross the threshold but in such cases they leave nothing to chance and make certain that the first at the door is a wee black yin.

After the first arrivals the proceedings are much the same as at a household New Year's Eve party here—the guests drink, eat, drink and sing.

Americans have become ardent golfers; we have taken up curling and soccer and quite a number prefer Scotch whiskey bourbon. Whether we will ever adopt the custom of first footin' is something else.

But in the meantime we hope that 1959 will be a year of plenty for you and may all your luck be good.

Happy New Year! Hogmanay!

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The real birth of a United States of Europe took place Sunday with the making of the French Franc and the English pound sterling freely convertible into the currencies of most of the world with, of course, some initial exceptions which are expected to be ironed out shortly. A large common market between the nations of western Europe in which there would be the same trade restrictions and a minimum of red tape in such trade, has been the dream of economists and political scientists for many years. The idea is reputed to have been taken from the example of the United States where we have a market of tremendous size without trade restrictions between the states or areas. This has been a big advantage to us in raising standards of living thru lowering costs with a mass market potential without tariff barriers. It is hard for us to realize, but the distance between Stockholm and Constantinople, Turkey, is about the same as that between Chicago and New York, (the old name of the capitol of Turkey is deliberately used here as this was the manner of presentation of the advantages years ago).

The difference in ease of trade and costs between the U.S.A. and Europe, has been that between Stockholm and Constantinople, trade shipments had to pass thru many customs barriers and areas of trade restrictions of various kinds and no uniformity. Use of mass production in reducing costs of products was not possible as there was no mass market.

Since the end of the first World War and the destruction of kingdoms and popular control of governments by the people in lesser or greater degree, there has come up a maze of monetary controls and with it import and export restrictions. These regulations were largely caused by efforts of the political heads of governments to promise and give everything demanded by any organized group and obscure the effect of their sins by artificial trade controls. Free Convertability of currencies means that each of the countries involved in the plan, will accept the other's currencies in payment for imports of merchandise and do so without discount from the official stated value of the country of the currency's origin.

Such a plan is impossible where a country's fiscal policies are supported by subsidies in international trade and where a country is not able to bring its into balance or pay for the excess of imports over exports with an acceptable currency which has free interchange. The "free convertability" acts like a policeman in the control of each country's fiscal policies wherein the country scatters its money freely to pressure groups and lets labor unions demand and get wage increases not in proportion to their position in the economy and their productivity. It is likely to be a somewhat painful process at the start as any varying from good fiscal practice by one country, will be quickly noted by other countries in the group since these bad fiscal policies will quickly shrink the purchasing power of the particular currency and its acceptability at the officially stated rate of the country of origin of said currency, will be refused by the other countries. This even tho the country refusing the particular currency may themselves be headed for the same end.

Politicians are the same the world over! To become statesmen they must first

Like New Years' Parties? Change Calendars and have lots of them

With a little imagination—and a olt of stamina—you can ring in the New Year with more than one celebration.

In fact, you can keep on celebrating all thru the year, just by switching calendars. The World Book Encyclopedia says most of the Christian world wipes the slate clean on Jan. 1.

But by trading in the Gregorian calendar for the Julian calendar, you can have another New Year's party on January 14th.

Take a few months to recover, and you can join the Iranian celebration on March 21. If that doesn't wear you out, you can turn over a new leaf in autumn, when the Jews welcome the New Year.

If you want to cut down on travel time, you can confine your party hopping to India. The Hindus are divided into many different religious groups, and each group marks the beginning of the year on a different date.

Homer

Teenagers Club Presents Skit At Community Club Party

BY MRS. ELIZABETH ANDERSON
Lockport 886W2

The Teenagers club of North Homer presented a melodrama, entitled Cactus Christmas, Friday evening, Dec. 19, at the Community club party in the Ludwig school gym. In the cast were Susie LaTocha, April Walter, Linda Larsen, Renee Marzec and Nancy Holt. Intermission music was provided by a four piece orchestra, composed of Judy Carlson, Judy Wilson, Mary Snyder, and Nancy Holt. Mary also sang a solo, White Christmas. The children's gift exchange and refreshments completed the evening's festivities.

Country Charms Projects

The Country Charms 4-H club went caroling Friday evening, then went to the home of Linda Nelson for refreshments and a gift exchange. At their recent regular meeting in the home of Becky White, they rehearsed carols, received instructions from their leader, Mrs. Holloway, on making a clothes-pin bag which resembled a child's dress. They discussed handicraft plans for 1959 and enjoyed refreshments served by the hostess.

There will be no meeting of the Wayside Workers Circle of King's Daughters in January. The next meeting will be on Thursday, Feb. 5.

The children of the Willard G. Rowley family have been ill with flu and ear infections during the past two weeks.

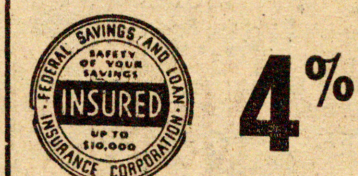

Thursday evening, Jan. 8, at 8 o'clock, is the time set for the organizing of a Woman's Auxiliary of the Homer Fire Protection District. Homer Town Hall is the place of meeting.

Ludwig-Reed school district recently approved a bond issue which provides for erecting who could and would insist on facing of facts and their correction. Riots and revolution was expected! De Gaulle has the respect of the nation and he was overwhelmingly elected president of France with real power.

His first step was to devalue the Franc to its true value. This will, of course, mean raising costs of living somewhat and a temporary lowering of the standard of living of its people, but there was no alternative to acceptance of France into the group of nations now starting as of the first of 1959 in a "European Economic Union". These countries are Belgium, West Germany, France, Italy, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands. England and the Scandinavian countries are presently working on plans to integrate themselves into the system. England's position is difficult in that she already is a part of the British Commonwealth trade arrangement and integration fully will require considerable planning and time. As a step into the picture, England has announced free-convertibility of the English pound into other currencies outside of the "Sterling block" which includes a few countries outside of the Commonwealth.

Political charlatans who want to continue in power thru profligate spending and bending to pressures of selfish labor groups, will fight hard against this development as it means their political death if it is successful. The "lefties" of the world hate this turn of events. Russia and the Communists have suffered a real defeat. They will not give up easily and we can expect reverberations to continue for weeks to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Burch have returned from California where they spent Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. James Coleman, and family. On Dec. 13, they attended the wedding of their son, Reed the Seattle, Wash. Congregation, and Jean Forsberg, in tional church. The newly weds flew to Hawaii for a honeymoon.

Homer homes are gay this week with beautiful lighting effects from inside and also on the lawns. Out-door Christmas trees, strings of lights making designs at front doors and porches, and even on windmill towers, make driving on our highways a pleasure, probably the most outstanding is the windmill on the Frank Kolar farm, which is wound with strings of lights from ground to wheel, like a huge Christmas tree, and topped with a large star of lights which blink. The decoration is the work of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Myers who also live in the Kolar home, located on Rt. 7, about 3 1/2 miles east of Lockport.

On Tuesday evening, members of Homer church choir and the Pilgrim Fellowship group went caroling in the neighborhood and then returned to the church for refreshments and a gift exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Rowley were dinner guests in the home of their grandson, Edward Ott and family near Plainfield. In the evening a large group of relatives gathered in the Rowley home for a gift exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burch were guests at a Meyers family dinner in the Clarence Rowley home, west of Plainfield.

Mrs. Caroline Ott of Lockport spent the day in her son, Owen's home. The Frank Hartman family of Blue Island were supper guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rowley were visitors in the Harold Finley home in Lockport.

Mr. and Mrs. George Milton entertained at a family dinner.

The Walter Geist family of Bellaire, Texas, are spending the holidays with his sister, Mrs. John W. Reiter and family of Bruce rd. The Reiter's son, Stewart, is also home from Urbana for the vacation.

Malcolm Phillips spent vacation days in the Harold Drewes home in Lockport.

Larry Burnworth reached his family by telephone Saturday, from Hawaii, where he is located with the Marines.

4-H NEWS

ALPINE GIRLS

The Alpine Girl's 4H club met Dec. 18 in the Maue school with Kay Maue leading the pledge to the flag. Carla Mrosek gave the roll call and the secretary's report. Janice Gee became a new member. The group made soap and dish cloth dogs for the children at the orphanage. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held Jan. 12.

New officers elected are: Elaine Yunker, president; Joan Stellwagen, vice president; Kay Maue, secretary; Marie Meiers, treasurer; Janice Knieriem, reporter; Beth Doctor, recreation; Nora Holse program and Sharon Lauffer and Marie Meiers, federation candidates.

Honey Bees

The Frankfort 4-H Honey Bees met at Kathy Sinnott's home Dec. 16 for a Christmas party. Games were played and refreshments served. Each member brought a $1 gift for the grab bag.

The next 4-H meeting will be Jan. 21 at the Methodist Church at 7 p.m.

The Honey Bees visited the Lutheran Home for Children in Joliet on Dec. 21. The 4-H members donated ornaments and cookies.

Bremen Beacons

A Christmas party was held by the Bremen Beacons Dec. 13. Each member was asked to bring a friend and a 50 cent gift. Games were played, so that everyone could get acquainted. The exchange of gifts followed and refreshments were served. The girls were presented gifts by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, and with the singing of carols the party closed.

Lincoln-Way Faces Hinckley Quartet in Holiday Tourney

Win Will Put Knights Against Naperville or Lemont in 2nd Tilt

The Knights pull on their armor for the New Year's Day basketball tournament at Naperville, Thursday — New Year's Day.

Lincoln-Way will meet Hinckley-Big Rock in the final of a four-game set at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 1. If they should defeat Hinckley, the L-W forces will encounter the winner of the Naperville-Lemont winner on Friday, Jan. 2, at the 8:30 p.m. game. If defeated, the Knight will meet the loser in consolation game at 3:00 p.m. Jan. 2.

"Hinckley is comparable to Peotone," mused Joe Kruzich, the L-W coach. "We lost to Peotone by a point or two, but I'm convinced that we have our best chance to win our first game of the season on New Year's Day."

The L-W squad has looked much sharper in recent practice sessions. They will be without the services of Tom Peterson and get only limited help from Jerry Haehelein. This is a blow to the New Lenox's school hopes.

"I believe, well—we could win the tournament if we can take the opener with Hinckley," added Kruzich.

Bob Lichtenwalter, a sophomore, will be moved up to the varsity for the tournament. Lichtenwalter will team with "Skip" Kruzich at the other guard post. Larry Iwema, Bill Severtson, and George Ruhle will remain under the basket for Lincoln-Way.

Hinckley is tied for fifth place in the Little 10 League. Its records is 2 wins and 4 losses—Lincoln-Way's is 0-6.

Will Jandt, who scored 25 points against Seneca a few nights ago constitutes much of the Hinckley scoring threat. He is a small guard with excellent shooting ability. Grant, a not-too-tall, but aggressive center will give plenty of trouble. A forward by the name of Schrader will do a large parcel of the scoring for the Bigrock lads.

Can Lincoln-Way stop the high scoring Hinckley team? Even in its defeat the scoring has been in the high 60's. That is good scoring for any high school team.

The large knick—which grows larger with the addition of another sophomore added to the squad—in the Knights armor is inexperience. Kruzich started five men at the beginning of the season. Now he has to add another sophomore with no varsity competition.

Green, young teams have been known to rise to the occasion and give great basketball for a time. L-Way will need every bit of this to top the Naperville tournament over the New Year's week-end.

The Knights might be the much talked-of darkhorse!

Sandburg Mat Championship Hopes Grow Dim

Reavis, perennial wrestling champions of the SW Suburban, served notice on Carl Sandburg—champion hopeful that things are not likely to change this season. The Rams butted the Eagles 30-13. A convincing victory.

Sandburg's varsity wrestling team kept its dual meet record even over the past weekend however by defeating Joliet.

The win over Joliet was the third of the year and came when heavyweight Fred Hely gained a pin in the final match for a margin of 25-21. Allan Jacklich, 175 pound ace, kept his unbeaten string in tact and performed admirably both times.

The Eagle matmen were down four points going into the final two matches against Joliet. Joliet enjoyed an even greater margin earlier in the match before Gibson, Chatlosh and Gorman gained three wins in a row in the 138, 145 and 154 weight divisions.

Against Reavis on Saturday night Hely repeated his pining efforts, but it wasn't the deciding factor. Sandburg's 13 points against 30 for Reavis came on a draw by Ron Semetis at 112 pounds and victories by Gibson and Jacklich.

Coach Joe Devine's grapplers are out of action until after the holiday season. The frosh-soph squad took a double loss, losing to Joliet 41-15 and to Reavis by a 45-3 count.

Sandburg Preps For Tilt With Argo Saturday

The Sandburg Eagles are getting set for their first contest since the 62-49 loss to Hammond Clark of Hammond, Indiana.

On Saturday evening, Jan. 3 at Argo, the Sandburg team, will meet its second South Suburban conference opponent. The Eagles lost the only other test to Blue Island, 48-44.

Sandburg had won three straight prior to the loss to Hammond-Clark.

Coach Bill Adams is hoping that the Orland Park lads can find themselves again on Saturday evening. This they will have to do to win.

Argo is no pushover! Bremen beat the Argo team, but Oak Lawn lost to them in overtime. Argo is also difficult to beat on its home floor.

Adams plans to go with his regular lineup of the past few games. Don Arnold continued to lead the Sandburg five in scoring with his 17 point effort in the Hammond game.

Argo should beat the improved Sandburg team.

Bettenhausen Story

Tony Wins His First Trophy with Assist From Chewing Gum!

BY DEAN DALLAS
Sports Editor

One naive comedian commented: "after traveling around the U. S. and visiting the public places...if the manufacture of chewing gum is stopped...America would fall apart."

Dry, chewing gum balls may be found at most any place. At the race track you don't find it stuck to the frame of a race car.

One Sunday evening Tony Bettenhausen was driving a midjet race at Olympic Stadium in Kansas City. He and PeeWee Distrace locked wheels and off flew the Tinley Parker. Tony's car bounced about 20 feet in the air. It came down a total wreck. He walked away.

Tuesday evening, with a new owner from Milwaukee, and a new car, No. 21, Tony hobbled into Walsh Stadium and started the warm-up.

The track was rough! Tony jettisoned the high octane to the hungry pistons.

The track was rough! Crash! No. 21 hit a large hole, shot into the inner guard rail, and jack-rabbit end over end down the track. Bettenhausen climbed out. He walked away.

The black and blue spots lost their blue haze and became blacker on the midjet race driver's body.

Crushed was the hood, radiator shell, and the front bumper. Off came these accessories and Bettenhausen was back warming up No. 21.

The chassis had not been damaged, but on final inspections a water leak was detected. Lucy luck-disaster was striking at the "blond flipper" again.

Then, there was chewing gum. Tony's pit crew borrowed his chewing gum and everyone else's, added some permatex, and he was off in the qualifying round.

No. 21, chewing gum, permatex, and some water leakage, roared into eighth place among the qualifiers.

Two wrecks in two nights! How many lives did this man have?

Walsh Memorial Stadium of St. Louis was treated to a rushing, wild drive by Bettenhausen. Tony drove No. 21, spraying, to a new track record and a victory in the feature handicap race of the evening. This win became his first trophy win.

All this--on his honey-moon!

Midjets were Tony's bread and butter, but the lure of Indianapolis was beginning to itch the driving arms of this farm lad.

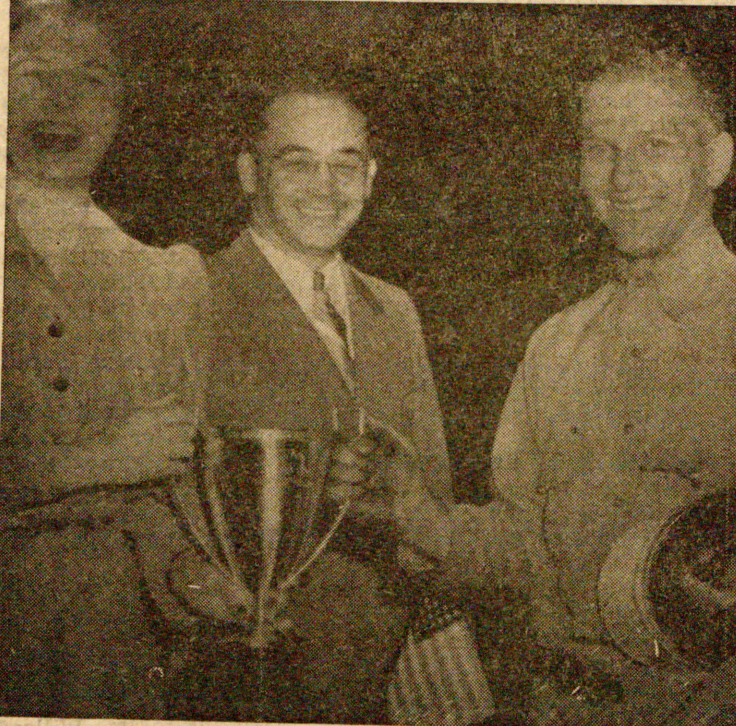

He continued driving midjets. It was driving midjets that made his racing name.

Raceway Park in Blue Island, Milwaukee, Urbana, became the haunts of Bettenhausen. He was rapidly becoming the master of the midjet car class.

His earning of $2,000 for over 77 races was something in the forgotten past. Now he drove less and made more!

The winter of 1940 blew away with March and Bettenhausen left his Tinley home for a try at the Indianapolis 500. He had been told by the 500 officials to get some experience in the big cars by racing on the 1/4 mile and mile tracks and come back next year!

Next week:
The disappointment of 1941.

RECEIVES FIRST TROPHY—This picture was taken quite a few years ago because it marks the first trophy won by Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park's star auto race driver. Since then Tony has won a lot of them but none have produced the thrill that this first one did. The girl sharing Tony's jubilation at getting this cup is Mrs. Bettenhausen.

Last year Bremen High School was well on its way to the SW Suburban Conference title with one of the smallest quintets in the league.

This year Coach Bill Browns Redman are on their way downward.

Dennis Tatum of Bremen became the first footballer from that school to be placed on the All-State selection. Dennis made Special Mention. This was 1958.

1959 doesn't seem to hold much promise in the basketball circles for Bremen, Lincoln-Way, or Carl Sandburg. Sandburg has the best record of 2-1 to date, but as yet has met one of the top teams. In that game they were soundly beaten.

The wrestling hopes of the Sandburg team were dealt a hard jolt in the pasting; 30-13, administered by the perennial champs of the SW Suburban Conference, Reavis.

Coach Joe DeVine's boys of "real potential" came through—but that was the point total for the Eagle.

All isn't lost. With proper help the Eagle could emerge at the top of the heap at the SW Suburban's annual tournament.

Ken Young, of Orland Park, star footballer at Valparaiso University, has won a berth on the varsity basketball team on that Indiana College team.

Christmas Skit Highlights Cub Pack Meeting

BY DELORES ANDERSON
New Lenox 3651

Cub Scout Pack 41 held their monthly Pack meeting last Friday at the Schmuhl school. The boys entertained their parents with a Christmas skit and presented their mothers with gifts they had made.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Edward Chladick.

Members of the Busy Hour 4-H club will enjoy a trip to Chicago Jan. 28, where they will visit the Loop and tour the Marshall Field store.

William was the name given the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy, at the christening service held last Sunday in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Mokena. Fr. Cecil Koop officiated at the four o'clock service and sponsors were, Mrs. Lorraine Clancy of Chicago, and Dick Pokorny of Lincolnwood.

A dinner honoring the occasion was held at the Malloy home at 6 o'clock. Guests were Ed Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Clancy, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pokorny, and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Crouse.

Christmas Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pokorny and sons, Mr. and Mrs. William Pokorny and family, and Mrs. Virginia Leonhart and children, were guests Christmas eve at a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pokorny in Palos Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Owen and family and Mrs. Vera Sullivan were guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy and family.

Judy, Kathy, and Mark Leonhart, and George and Richard Pokorny spent Friday with their aunt, Miss Mary Pokorny in Palos Park.

Mrs. Virginia Leonhart and family entertained Saturday at a family gathering, the W. G. Pokorny's of Palos, the Bill Pokorny's of Hinsdale and the Richard Pokorny's of Lincolnwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thorson of Chicago were guests here Sunday of the Richard Pokorny family.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pokorny and family were guests on Christmas day of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Scheckel at a family gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dieken and family spent the day in Danforth, with his mother Mrs. Ann Dieken, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dieken.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Halik had as dinner guests, Mrs. Marie Novak and John Novak of Cicero.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hedrick of Kankakee.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chladick and family entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warner, and her aunts,

Mrs. Rilla Andean Dies Unexpectedly In Hospital Dec. 21

Mrs. Rilla Andean, who lived for several years on the farm now owned by the John W. Reifers, but lately on Farwell rd. in Joliet Township, died unexpectedly in St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet, on Sunday morning, Dec. 21. She had entered the hospital 12 days previously for a checkup.

Funeral services for Mrs. Andean were held at the Goodale Funeral home in Lockport, with the Rev. H. M. Finley officiating. Burial was in Elmhurst cemetery, Joliet.

Mrs. Andean was a former member of the Homer Missionary society.

Surviving are her husband, John, one son, Merle Harpster of Chicago, one granddaughter, and three great-granddaughters.

3 DIE AT ORLAND—

The car was driven by Clarence B. Luther, 55, Rt. 1, New Lenox. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock at the west approach of the F&E viaduct on Cass street, Joliet, struck by a car Saturday night.

Fire Breaks Out In Tinley Home Under Construction

An overheated furnace caused a fire in a home under construction at 173rd st. and Ocean to ave., Tinley Park on Dec. 20. The home is being built by the S. and S. Construction Company for Fred Zimmerman of Tinley Park.

The volunteer fire department was delayed in answering the call because it was first placed with the police department and the address was given as 173rd pl., instead of street. Assistant fire chief, Milford Bettenhausen, stated the damage to the home was estimated at $400.

"Television is called a medium because so little of it is either rare or well done," Mrs. Deane Binder.

The Chinese and Japanese literally wipe the slate clean for their New Year. They pay their debts and settle accounts before a new year begins.

Mr. Charles Ellis, and Mr. and Mrs. George Kernahan, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Konkel and family had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Karl and daughter Barbara of Joliet, her uncle, Frank Krenkel of Joliet, who spends a lot of time with the orphans at the Guardian Angel home in Joliet, entertaining them at different times, brought six of the boys from the home to spend the afternoon with the Konkel family and their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mills and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Horan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Massey and family of Joliet, on Christmas eve. The Horan family were also dinner guests on Christmas day.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY units in the picture (l to r) are: Mrs. William Illinois was hosts to patients in the various Newhouse, Mrs. Wesley Barbour, Mrs. John state hospitals at Christmas week. The Tinley Radostits, Mrs. Victor W. Lillo, American Legion unit had a dinner for some 20 patients in the auxiliary department hospital chairman from the hospital there at the Legion club at Tinley; Mrs. Lowell C. Allen, director of rooms on Tuesday, Dec. 23. The meal was pre-hospital services for the state dept. of the auxiliary as volunteers at the hospital. The women don.

COUNTY PUBLISHES—

ments County Treasurer Doerfler had authority to order a new publication of the corrected assessment rolls, Masters ruled, and this was done.

A brief summary of the situation should bring everyone up to date, Krapf, as treasurer, embarked on a course to have a uniform assessment in the various townships to bring the total valuation up to 55 per cent of the market value so the county would have a one multiplier.

When the New Lenox books were turned in by the township assessor the assessment division in the treasurer's office, headed by James Davis, found them too low. A reassessment was made under the direction of Davis. It was in making this reassessment that the clerical error was made which touched off the protests from New Lenox.

Persons who believe their assessments are wrong can go before the board of review at the court house in Joliet and file a complaint. The new deadline for such complaints from New Lenox township is Jan. 28.

Valuations on property, real and personal, are fixed by assessors, with final adjustment the province of the board of review.

The state department of revenue looks over the abstract of assessments released by the board of review and then fixes a multiplier which is supposed to bring the figures up to market value. They figure this market value at about 55% of actual value.

The assessed value is then multiplied by the factor or multiplier and that is the figure on which the tax rates are made. Assessors, county clerks, treasurers do not set the amount a tax shall be. The tax levies are made by the various taxing bodies. They say they need so much money. Then the county clerk's office figures how much the rate must be to produce the amount of money desired. The rates are added together and so the total tax rate is made known.

If the total rate for example, is $3 per $100 equalized assessed valuation (and this $3 would include school taxes, village tax, forest preserve tax, town tax, county tax, T. B. sanitarium tax, bond and interest tax etc.) and one's property has an equalized valuation of $5,000 or 50 hundred dollars, then one would multiply by $3 and the tax bill would be $150.
